(To the Editor of the Interior Journal.) I had proposed writing sooner, but when I left New Jersey I was busy in New York a few days, so I nad no time to even ascend the World's towering see the roof gardens of New York, where ton. those dwelling on "flats" can go up to the top of the house and walk amid blooming flowers ladening a purer air than is found six or ten stories below.

On Friday we took the Fall River line ly manner. of elegant boats crowded with a couple of thousand people, so that mattresses covered every available space after filling the state-rooms. By Saturday noon we had passed the "Hub" and did not even stop to see Bunker Hill. "The King's business requires haste." Saturday night the work began at Old Orchard, Me. Along the sea Maine seemed to be much like Florida; sand and marshy places. Its chief visible products were grass and granite. Houses neat; stowed away.

Old Orchard is situated on the inner bend of the coast, hardly a bay, some 20 who desired engaged in dancing. or 30 miles beyond Portland, and near a town of several thousand, connected with it by electric cars. O. O. has a scattered population of several hundred; probably a half dozen large frame hotels, fine beach, much bathing, good fish, and, to my surprise, ripening peaches. The apples and pears and grapes seemed abundant for a new town, but the prices visiting relatives here. at the stores were rather high. Corn in four to eight stalks from the same hill if not the same root! But I only saw little, save the convention. Was in bathing put once; never visited the neighborple and birch-clad coast.

The following programme for one day will explain why: At 6:30 A. M., morning prayer meeting; 9 A. M., praise meeting; 10:30 A. M., preaching by Rev. A. B. Simpson, continued till 12 o'clock; 1 P. M., children's meeting; 2 P. M., addresses and at another place, ministers' meeting; 7:30, evening service; addresses by Rev. Scofield, of Texas, and Farr, of N. Y. Training College. These services were full of amens!, ballelujahs!, songs sung over and over, if not sung with wholeheartedness, and prayers. The entire hour, or hour and a half, in the morning prayer meeting was devoted to prayers, rising from many lips, one after the other, before we left our knees; songs sung by all, or as a voluntary, anywhere in the audience that one was moved by the Holy Spirit. A young colored woman often sung and did so with good voice, in good taste and showed in all her conduct wonderful spiritual enlightenment, with the negro aptness of expression.

The order of the convention was much the same as that at Asbury. Testimony meetings, Bible study, addresses, sermons, occasionally, and much prayer and praise. These latter elements, with testimonies, were probably the most marked feature.

One morning a lady led the prayer meeting and under God's hand she held the audience down on knees for more than half an hour in silent prayer for every missionrry in the Alliance by name. It is her custom to do this every day in her own closet. No wonder this cultivated wife of a Presbyterian elder has grace and courage to go down into the dives and slums of New York every week to rescue fallen women and bring them, like the good Samaritan, to her "Door of Hope." The writer is greatly indebted to her prayers during his hours of trial several years since. Backed by a spiritually-minded husband, she is doing a noble and Christ-like work for that most-to-be-pitied of all classes. We also had a man of God and his wife even more full of the Spirit, and a singer there with their gospel wagon. Between 5 and 7 P. M. we would fill it up with singers and workers and go down to the beach and preach 10-minute sermons, then sing the sweet gospel story and then have hand to hand work in the large crowd that gathered around from the beach in the cool of the evening. This is going out and compelling them to come in, and reaches many in cities not otherwise reached.

The I. J. Man at London and Other Points.

The week just closed has truly been a gala one in London and the lovers of gaiety are indeed sorry that it is numbered with the things that were. In the first place it was fair week and an immense crowd was present. Secondly, it was the week for the formal opening of the Catching Hotel, and lastly, it was the week when each Londonite vied with the other to make it pleasant for the stranger who was in their gates.

The fair was a success and from the large crowds in attendance each day it must have been a decided success financially. The show rings were well filled and most of the trots and running races were well contested. Bob Jackson's fine stallion, Randall, won two races, as did his fine thoroughbred, Polly Hughes. Mr. Jackson is his own driver and jockey and proved himself a man of many parts. George S. Carpenter, of Stanford, took the blue tie in the roadster ring with one of his fine gray horses.

The opening of the Catching Hotel on Thursday night was a grand affair indeed and will live long in the memory of those who attended. The commodious dining room was converted into a ball room and until three! o'clock Friday morning it was a scene of merriment not frequently witnessed. The Italian band from Rockcastle Springs furnished the music, which was a feature of the evening. Along about midnight a delightful lunch was served which was liberally partaken of by the happy young folks.

THE promised address by certain members of the Legislature was issued Saturday and purports to be an argument against the governor's position that according to the constitution a bill must receive a majority on its final passage, to make it a law that will run the gamut of the courts. It is couched in respectful language, but the pleadings are so entirely ex parte that the position it takes will not fool even the wayfaring man, year, who was silly enough to vote for the lstors and officers were to be governed by it.

IF WE KNEW.

From Dear Kate's Scrap-Book, and Published in Affectionate Remembrance of Her.

If we knew the woe and heartache Waiting for us down the road, If our lips could taste the wormwood,

If our backs could feel the load, Would we waste the day in wishing For a time that ne'er can be? Would we wait with such impatience

For our ships to come from sea? If we knew the baby fingers, Pressed against the window pane, Would be cold and stiff to-morrow-

Never trouble us again-Would the bright eyes of our darling Catch the frown upon our brow! Would the prints of rosy fingers

Vex us then as they do now? Ah! these little ice-cold fingers! How they point our memories back To the hasty words and actions Strewn along our backward track!

How these little hands remind us, As in snowy grace they lie, Not to scatter thorns, but roses, For our reaping by-and-bye.

Strange we never prize the music Till the sweet-voiced bird has flown; Strange that we should slight the violets Till the lovely flowers are gone;

Strange that summer skies and sunshine Never seem one-half so fair As when winter's snowy pinions

Shake their white down in the air, Lips from which the seal of silence None but God can roll away Never blossomed in such beauty

As adorns the mouth to-day; And sweet words that freight our memory, With their beautiful perfume, Come to us in sweeter accents

Through the portals of the tomb. Let us gather up the sunbeams

Lying all around our path, Let us keep the wheat and roses, Casting out the thorns and chaff; Let us find our sweetest comfort

In the blessings of to-day, With the patient hand removing All the briars from our way.

Teachers' Institute.

One of the most profitable and decidedly the cleasantest Institutes that was ever held in this ounty closed at noon Friday, after the programme published in our last had been presented. The teachers are all greatly attached to Supt. W. F. McClary and Prof. W. C. Grinstead endeared himself to every one of them. He proved a competent and painstaking conductor and all went away feeling that they had learned much during the week. In a conversation the professor said the average of intelligence among our teachers is higher than any county he knows of, a decided compliment, as his knowledge of teachers is very

On or after the 4th of July following its adop Mr. H. S. Young, of the Mt. Pleasant s having answered the largest number of the questions was awarded the map and Miss Annie Morgan, whose postoffice is Eubanks, the year's subscription to this paper.

A teachers' association was organized and Mr. J. A. Chappell, the president for the last year, declining to serve longer on account of the condition of his wife, Supt. McClary and several othors were put in nomination for the office. All declined the honor and Mrs. J. M. Hubbard was unanimously elected. Miss Cettie Thurmond was chosen vice-president and L. N. Taylor secretary and treasurer. A committee will arrange programme and first place of meeting. The committee on resolutions, C. H. Holmes, chairman, Misses Mary Kay and Eliza Smith, presented the following, which were adopted: RESOLVED, 1st. That the thanks of this Insti tute are cordially tendered Prof. W. C. Grinstead for the able and impartial manner in which he has conducted this body. Furthermore that we heartily recommend him to any Institute desiring

2d. That we especially commend Supt. W. F. McClary for his unswerving fidelity to duty, his kindness to all and his faithful endeavors to elevate the standard of education in Lincoln county. 3d. That Mr. Miller's "piece" was appreciated and enjoyed and we thank him very much for it. 4th. That we are grateful to Prof. J. M. Rupley for his scholarly address, which was replete with truth and beauty.

5th, That we sincerely thank Misses Lewis and Philips for their services at the organ; also Mr. S. R. Cook for the use of his organ.

6th. That we cannot improve upon Mr. W. S. Burch and Miss Georgia Lewis as secretaries. Our thanks are due them.

7th. That we feelingly appreciate the interest manifested by the INTERIOR JOURNAL in our proceedings and would advise every teacher to beome at once a subscriber to this excellent paper. 8th. That we go away feeling kindly towards the citizens of Stanford and vicinity for their interest in our sessions.

9th. Last, but not least, we appreciate the efforts of Miss Cettie Thurmond to render the meetings profitable to all.

The session was closed with prayer by Rev. A. V. Sizemore and after hearty hand-shakes, all around, the teachers left for their homes feeling that it was good for them that they had attended.

During the epidemic of flux in this county lassummer I had hard work to keep a supply summer I had hard work to keep a supply of Camberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhæa Remedy on hand. People often came 10 or 12 miles in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the past 10 years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhœa and flux than any other medicine I ever handled—I. H. Benham, Druggist, Golconda, Pope Co, Ill. Over 500 bottles of this remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other spidemics of bowel complaint this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. M. L. Bourne, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

H. T. BUSH, REAL ESTATE AGENT

Stanford, Ky. I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best B ue-Grass Lands in Lincoln county.

These Farms are all well improved and good rich lands, running in size from 50 to 500 Acres.

Considering theis locality, their richness and ferroads that bring markets right to our door, they are cheaper than the Lands of any other county in There is scarcely a Farm in the coun-the State. There is scarcely a Farm in the county over 5 miles from a derot.

The county is checked with turnpikes running inevery direction. There is not a public road entering the county seat that is not Macadamized. We have the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. dividing the county from East to West and the C. S. R. R. from North to South; the K. C. R. R. from this place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the whole world. Besides, we have three large Flour Mills in the county that give us a market for all our grain right at home; and the development of the mountain regions of Eastern and South-eastern Kentucky by sailroads and the outlet South by railroads has created such a demand for all kinds of cereals and provender that wecan scarcely retain enough for home consumption.

for all kinds of cereals and provender that wecan scarcely retain enough for home consumption.

The people are prosperous, generous and kind, believing in Christianity and education. There is not a neighborhood in the county but has a good church and school-house.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is a prosperous little city of about 2,500 inhabitants and is the great doorway from the North and Northeast South and from the Northwest to Southeast, and standing as it does gazing right into the bosom of the undeveloped mountains of Southeastern Kentucky backed up by the whole Blue-Grass region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally one of the best located towns in the South for mannfactures and other enterprises of magnitude. Water Works are now being agitated and right aboue the town about three-fourths of a mile there could be erected Water Works with very little cost that would supply a city of 150,000 inhabitants with the purest and best water in the world. Our little city has been newly rebuilt in the last few years and its business houses ard residences will compare with larger cities of greater pretensions. Our merchants and tradesmen are all prosperous and doing well. We have two banks with a capital stock of $00,000 that are prosperous and in a good condition.

banks with a capital stock of $400,000 that are prosperous and in a good condition.

We have splendid schools. We have a Female College, a large brick building, with over 100 pu pils in attendance and under the principalship of Prof. J. M. Hubbard, is in a flourishing condition. We also have a Seminary that is a good school, with Prof. B. F. Blakeman at its head. We have one of the best Public School buildings in this section of the State, with over 100 puptls in attendance, and with other good private schools, you see our school facilities are excellent.

We have elegant church builnings, representing every denomination, with a full corps of ministers of fias -class talent and are doing a better business than any class of men in the city.

I have tried to make this statement as facts, without any exaggeration or coloring, as those who know will bear me out, and those who wish to buy pleasant homes at tair prices and locate among a good people with all the best surroundings, would do well to call and see me before purhasing oleswhere. lings, would do wel hasing elsewhere
